

White Cabinets and Gray Countertops: Best Ways to Pair

Table of Contents

- How Do You Find the Right Material?
- How Do You Find the Right Tone?
- What Are Some Lighter Gray Options?
- What Are Some Medium Gray Options?
- What Are Some Darker Gray Options?
- How Else Can You Complement Your White Cabinets?

Many homeowners opt to install white cabinets because of their clean look and versatile style. White cabinets can pair well with many different colored countertops. One of the best colors, however, is gray countertops. This guide will help you determine which gray countertops will pair best with white cabinets.

How Do You Find the Right Material?

Just as there are many different countertop color options that pair well with white cabinets, there are also many materials to choose from when it comes to the countertops. Several materials will offer you terrific gray options to select from.

Beyond color, there are some other factors you will need to consider when it comes to finding the right material:

Finding the Right Material

What style are you going for? A traditional kitchen? A contemporary kitchen?
How important is durability?
What kind of texture are you looking for?

How Do You Find the Right Tone?

If you have already determined that you want gray countertops to pair with the cabinets, you will have to decide on what shade of gray you like. Gray is an excellent color choice for countertops because it is considered neutral. It is truly a great fit in any setting. There is a wide range of tones to pick from when looking at gray countertops. This guide will evaluate lighter gray options, darker gray options and everything in between.

What Are Some Lighter Gray Options?

A light gray countertop is a great choice to pair with a white kitchen. Although you can opt for a white countertop that perfectly matches your cabinets, light gray countertops will offer just a little bit of separation. Below are some of the best lighter gray countertops to pair with white cabinetry.

Aspen White Granite

Aspen White granite is a beautiful gray granite that will wonderfully complement your white cabinetry. This natural stone is very durable and is an ideal fit for any kitchen design.

Bianco Diamante Granite

Bianco Diamante granite is another great lighter gray colored countertop option. This granite has a gray base color that is accompanied by speckles of black, gray and white. This stone is an excellent choice for any white kitchen.

5110 Alpine Mist Caesarstone Quartz

Quartz is an engineered stone that has risen in popularity in recent years. This is due to the material's attractive appearance and durable qualities. If you are looking for a lighter gray quartz countertop option to pair with your white cabinets, this material is an excellent choice.

What Are Some Medium Gray Options?

Perhaps you want something that falls in between the lighter options above and the darker options below. There are many great medium gray options to choose from. Some of these options are analyzed below.

Carrara Silver Marble

If you want to add a touch of luxury to your space, Carrara Silver marble is a great material to choose. This stone is sure to be an excellent complement to your white cabinets. Marble countertops are some of the most desirable features in any home.

Pietra Cardoso Slate

Slate is a great fit for a modern style white kitchen. This particular stone is a blue-gray shade that will look terrific paired with white cabinets.

What Are Some Darker Gray Options?

A darker gray countertop can beautifully contrast white cabinets. The materials below will be a great fit for any white kitchen.

Silver Paradiso Granite

If you are looking to add some serious character to your white kitchen, consider Silver Paradiso granite. With its dark gray background and distinctive white veining, this stone is a wonderful choice to pair with white cabinets. Add to its beauty the durability that granite countertops provide and you have a countertop that is truly ideal for any home.

6003 Coastal Grey Caesarstone Quartz

This dark gray quartz features beautiful lighter gray veining. You cannot go wrong installing this material to contrast your white cabinetry.

River Bed 680 Quantra Quartz

River Bed 680 Quantra quartz resembles granite. Its combined tones of dark gray and black make it the perfect countertop to complement white kitchen cabinets.

Bardiglio Marble

Bardiglio marble features a stunning combination of dark gray and black that is accompanied by long dramatic veins. This natural stone will bring an elegant feel to your white kitchen.

Smoke Soapstone

If you are searching for a very dark gray countertop to pair with your white cabinets, Smoke soapstone can be just what you are looking for. This magnificent stone is very durable and will be a perfect complement to your kitchen design.

How Else Can You Complement Your White Cabinets?

Beyond installing a countertop, adding in a backsplash can help complement your cabinetry. You can also consider using the same material for a kitchen island. Using any of the materials above for a backsplash or island countertop will be a great choice for any white kitchen.

Whether you have rustic, contemporary, shaker or any other style of cabinets, finding the right kitchen countertops to pair with them can complete the look of the room. When taking on a home remodel, you may not know which direction you want to go in at first. But there is no need to panic, as you have plenty of countertop and cabinet options that pair well together.

Choosing the right gray countertops to pair with your white cabinets can make a world of difference for your kitchen. You will want a countertop that will still leave you satisfied years down the road. No matter what style kitchen you have, there are several excellent countertop choices. Reviewing this guide can help you determine what the best gray countertop options are for white cabinets.