

What Color is Ubatuba Granite?

Table of Contents

Ubatuba Granite: What Color Is It?

Ubatuba

Green Ubatuba

Ubatuba Gold

What Different Names Does Ubatuba Granite Have?

How Do You Care for Ubatuba Granite?

Frequently Asked Questions

Ubatuba granite (sometimes spelled Uba Tuba granite) is a stunning and very popular darker colored granite that is quarried in Brazil. It is one of the most common choices among homeowners for granite countertops, backsplashes and more. But many wonder: What color is Ubatuba granite? Can it be categorized as green granite? Dark green? Black granite? This guide will provide you with the answer to that question as well as additional information about this incredible natural stone.

Ubatuba Granite: What Color Is It?

The simple answer is that Ubatuba can be labeled as dark granite. The stone can be found in a range of darker colors and contains hints of various colors within the slabs. Below is a breakdown of different types of Ubatuba granite that you can find.

Ubatuba

Regular Ubatuba granite has a dark green background with consistent speckles of gold, brown and green throughout the slab. It is truly one of the more versatile countertop options you can find, as it looks great with matching darker cabinetry or contrasting lighter cabinets. Between the beautiful appearance, durability and easy care that you will get with Ubatuba granite countertops, it is no wonder the material is so popular.

Green Ubatuba

Despite its name, Green Ubatuba granite is mostly black with small speckles of green, yellow and white throughout. It is a terrific choice for a darker colored natural stone kitchen countertop, bathroom vanity top, backsplash or other home surfaces.

Ubatuba Gold

This variation of the stone is very similar to the regular Ubatuba, with slight differences. This stone is dark green in color with speckles of gold, brown and green throughout.

Ubatuba Granite: Color and Pattern Variations

Ubatuba	Green Ubatuba	Ubatuba Gold
Dark green	Mostly black	Dark green

Ubatuba	Green Ubatuba	Ubatuba Gold
Gold, brown and green speckles	Small green, yellow and white speckles	Gold, brown and green speckles
		Slight color difference from regular Ubatuba

What Different Names Does Ubatuba Granite Have?

You will find that Ubatuba granite has many different names. These include:

- Uba Tuba granite
- Verde Ubatuba granite
- Verde Uba Tuba granite
- Verde Labrador granite

How Do You Care for Ubatuba Granite?

Properly caring for Ubatuba granite is simple, as is the case with all types of granite. To keep the stone in great shape, you will need to stay on top of cleaning and re-sealing when necessary. It is a good idea to clean your Ubatuba granite daily, using a granite cleaner. Never use any harsh chemicals, as these may damage the stone. You will likely only need to re-seal about once per year using sealers like Laticrete StoneTech BulletProof Sealer or Superior Zero Ultimate Stone Sealer.

Frequently Asked Questions

Does Ubatuba Granite Have Veins?

Ubatuba granite does not have veining or flecks, but rather attractive speckling throughout the slabs.

Can You Install Ubatuba Granite on Your Own?

No, you cannot install Ubatuba granite on your own. Granite slabs are very heavy and difficult to handle, which is why installation is not a DIY job. Leaving installation up to a professional will significantly decrease the chances of improper installation and/or injury.

How Much Does Ubatuba Granite Cost?

On average, granite costs between $32 to $75 per square foot. Since Ubatuba is a common and popular material, it is usually in the lower end of that price range.

Regardless of the type you select, Ubatuba granite is one of the best countertop materials you can find. It is beautiful, durable and easy to care for – all qualities homeowners desire in a countertop. Through reviewing the information in the guide, you can find the right type of Ubatuba to complete your home improvement project.